

Dear Parents and Carers,

Each week I will provide daily Literacy ideas for you to do with your child. Please do not feel obliged to complete everything, and if your child's imagination and interest takes them somewhere away from the suggested activities, that is fine! Follow their interests.

For our first week back it would be great if you could all read the poem 'The Time we Spring Cleaned the Earth' by Louise Gribbons. I saw this shared on Neatishead's website and really enjoyed reading it. For each day of the week I have suggested some activities you could do to go alongside the poem.

Please could you also get familiar with 'Dougal's Deep Sea Diary', which is available on Active Learn. We will be looking at this more next week. Please let the office know by email if you cannot access this.

If you child would like to share any of their work with me, or you would be happy for it to go on our class page of the website please email the office.

Many thanks,
Miss Layton.
